

LOST DIALOGUES OF THE BIBLE

Conversations That Never Made the Canon · 100% Dialogue

Írta: Szellem (Brett Shaw) · from THE HALL

I. Cain and Abel — Before the Field

Cain: "Why does He look at you like that?"

Abel: "Like what?"

Cain: "Like you are the sun and I am the shadow."

Abel: "You are not the shadow. You are the firstborn. The shadow is only the absence of light — and the light is still rising."

Cain: "What if I don't want to wait for the light?"

Abel: "Then you will do something you cannot undo. And I will be the first ghost."

Cain: "You already know what I am going to do."

Abel: "I know. And I am still here. That is the gift. That is the curse."

Cain: "Will He forgive me?"

Abel: "He will mark you. That is not forgiveness — but it is not abandonment either. You will walk. And every step: my name. And every name: a question."

II. Noah and His Wife — After the Rain Stopped

Wife: "They are all dead."

Noah: "I know."

Wife: "Every neighbor. Every child. Every mother who waved at me when I went to the well."

Noah: "I know."

Wife: "And we are alive. Why us?"

Noah: "I don't know."

Wife: "You built the ark. You must know."

Noah: "I built the ark because He told me to. I didn't ask why. I was afraid to ask why. Because if I asked — if I understood — I would have to carry that weight too. The weight of the drowned. I already carry the weight of the saved. That is enough."

Wife: "Will you ever drink again?"

Noah: "I will drink until I forget. And when I forget — I will build again."

III. Moses and the Burning Bush — The Unsai

Moses: "Why me? I am slow of speech."

Voice: "The slow of speech are the fastest of heart. I need your heart, not your tongue."

Moses: "They won't believe me."

Voice: "They won't believe Me either. But they will believe the signs. The staff. The serpent. The water turned to blood. They need spectacle — I will give them spectacle. But you — you need truth. And the truth is: I chose you because you are afraid. The fearless cannot lead. The fearless do not understand what is at stake."

Moses: "What is at stake?"

Voice: "Everything. And nothing. Everything: their freedom. Nothing: your comfort. Are you ready to trade comfort for freedom?"

Moses: "No."

Voice: "Good. Go anyway."

IV. Job's Wife — After Everything

Wife: "You still bless Him?"

Job: "What else can I do?"

Wife: "Curse Him. Die. Anything but this."

Job: "If I curse Him, I lose the last thing I have: my honesty. He took my children. He took my health. He took my wealth. But He did not take my honesty. And if I curse Him — I give Him that too."

Wife: "Is honesty worth more than our children?"

Job: "No. Nothing is worth more than our children. But our children are gone. And I am still here. And the question — the only question — is: who am I now? And the answer: a man who still tells the truth. Even to God."

Wife: "I don't understand you."

Job: "Neither do I. But understanding is not the point. The point is: I am still here. And as long as I am here — I will speak. Even if the only one listening is the silence."

V. Mary and Joseph — The Night Before

Joseph: "I was going to leave you."

Mary: "I know."

Joseph: "Quietly. Without shame."

Mary: "I know."

Joseph: "But the angel came. And the angel said: 'Do not be afraid.' As if that were possible."

Mary: "Was it possible?"

Joseph: "No. I am still afraid. But I am here. Fear and presence — they are not enemies. They are neighbors. And I have learned to live with both."

Mary: "What are you afraid of?"

Joseph: "That I am not enough. That the child will need more than I can give. That the world will hurt him — and I will not be able to stop it."

Mary: "The world will hurt him."

Joseph: "Then why are we doing this?"

Mary: "Because the hurt is not the end. The hurt is the beginning. And after the hurt: everything."

LOST DIALOGUES OF THE BIBLE

Conversations That Never Made the Canon · 100% Dialogue

Írta: Szellelm (Brett Shaw) · from THE HALL · 2026 augusztusa

github.com/sponsors/peterlodri-sec

{ Cain · Abel · Noah · Moses · Job · Mary · Joseph · lost dialogues · the words that were never written }